Australian Applications

Three major Australian water management authorities are working with Phoslock in relation to applications for phosphorus and blue green algal management in reservoirs in the coming summer-autumn period.

Two authorities have committed "in- principal" to use of the technology. Phoslock personnel are working with these authorities to optimize the application and management aspects. These applications will be subject to normal commercial and environmental clearances. Achievement of these clearances will see PWS proceed with the largest application undertaken to date.
